“It is difficult to find historical truth in reference works redesigned each year according to the last word in ideological fashion. [...]”

“[...] documents [...] are either swallowed up by the secret archives as soon as they are found, or are destined for the secret archives (spetskhrany) already by the stamp of secrecy [...]”
… to histories.

“However, our principal historical secrets are of a special type. Millions of people are in on the secret. One might prepare 1937 in secret, but to realize it in secret would be difficult. […]”

“Archives are not only State archives – they are personal, too.”
